

DEMORONCE ITALY TO BE NO BREAK AS UNWORTHY NATION IN THE RECORDS

Turkish Mass Meeting Adopts Declaration for Peace Societies.

BRITISH STEAMER IS TAKEN

Italians Take Possession of Tripoli and Arabs Sue for Peace.

Turkey, which once threatened to overwhelm Christendom, now is preparing to appeal to the Christian parliaments of the world's peace and arbitration societies against Italy as unworthy of a place among civilized nations, a declaration to this effect being passed in the Mosque of St. Sophia at a great mass meeting.

Although unable to capture any Italian ship the Turks have taken a British steamer loaded with powder on the ground that she was carrying contraband.

Tripoli has finally fallen and the Italian flag waves over this old pirate stronghold and last of the Turkish North African possessions.

(From Saturday's Advertiser.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 7.—An immense meeting of Turkish business men, under the auspices of the government, was held in the mosque of St. Sophia yesterday to protest against Italy's declaration of war.

A declaration was drawn up and adopted, which will be sent to all the parliaments of the world's peace and arbitration societies, which arraigns the Italian government for its action in demanding the ceding of Tripoli and the starting of the war.

Among other things the declaration says that the occupation of Tripoli is unjustified and that Italy by her actions has proved herself unworthy of a place among civilized nations.

Captures British Steamer.

SALONIKA, Turkey, October 7.—A Turkish warship has captured the British steamer Orchis and brought her to port on the charge of having on board contraband of war in the shape of a cargo of powder.

The Orchis sailed from London on August 29 and went to Antwerp, clearing from that port for Galatz, Russia, a port on the Black Sea.

Italians Occupy Tripoli.

TRIPOLI, October 6.—The Italian military forces today occupied Tripoli and established a government. Admiral Barredolino has been appointed governor.

Arabs have boarded the admiral's flagship and declared submission, pleading that there be no resumption of the bombardment.

Sinks Turkish Gunboat.

MASSANA, October 6.—The Turkish fort Hodeidah exchanged fire shots with the Italian cruiser Arisano. It is reported that the cruiser sank a Turkish gunboat.

QUARANTINE BARS TO BE KEPT UP

Thanks to the vigorous action of a United Honolulu, the safeguards of the port to prevent the introduction of yellow fever are to be maintained in all their effectiveness. Yesterday Doctor Ramus, head of the local quarantine service, received a cablegram from Washington, announcing that Honolulu need worry no longer, that the recent orders rescinding some of the quarantine rules had been definitely revoked.

A long cablegram had been received on Thursday, intimating this. Doctor Ramus wanted no further misunderstanding, however, and cabled his ideas of what the message meant, asking if that were correct. Yesterday came this:

Ramus, Honolulu—No ambiguity, but your interpretation correct.—Wyman.

Governor Will Write.

A conference was held yesterday afternoon between Governor Frazar, Doctor Ramus and Doctor Pratt, when the question of whether it would be best to do nothing until Washington was heard from again, was discussed. Nothing definite was decided on the matter.

The Governor stated that it might be decided a little later to write to Surgeon-General Wyman after the exact situation had been discovered. "As I understand it," said Governor Frazar, "the plan that has been hitherto pursued is to be continued, and the main question now will be whether the present arrangements are sufficient or whether still further precautions should be taken."

Volcanic Observations to Be Taken Up When Perret Quits—Fund Subscribed.

(From Saturday's Advertiser.)

A preliminary meeting of the volcano observatory committee was held yesterday morning, when four principal matters were taken up for consideration. The first was permanent organization; second, securing a temporary observer to continue the work of P. A. Perret at the volcano until the arrival of Professor Jagger; third, financing the observatory; and fourth, arranging to entertain Professor Perret on his return from Kilaua, this to be followed by a lecture by Professor Perret to be delivered at the opera house.

The committee meeting was attended by L. A. Thurston, chairman; C. H. Cooke, Professor Gilmore, A. F. Judd and J. A. Kennedy. Committees were appointed to take the different subjects in hand, as follows:

Formulation of permanent organization, A. F. Judd and L. A. Thurston. Temporary observer, L. A. Thurston. Entertainment and lecture, Professor Gilmore.

Finance, C. H. Cooke and J. A. Kennedy.

It was decided it would be desirable to secure funds with which to carry on the work at the volcano immediately, and a pledge of $1500 was secured yesterday. Mr. Cooke, the treasurer, is authorized to make necessary expenditures therefrom pending permanent organization.

Professor Gilmore communicated with Professor Perret by yesterday's steamer, asking his pleasure as to the date of the lecture. Upon learning what date will suit Professor Perret, announcement of the day will be made. The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides made from Professor Perret's own photographs and will cover both his work at Kilaua as well as at Vesuvius and Etna.

SOLDIERS FLED FROM PORTUGUESE AMAZONS

LISBON, September 20.—Notwithstanding the recognition of the republic by the powers and the apparent tranquility of the country, the general situation is far from settled. The Diario Noticias says state officials yesterday proceeded to Penacova, eight miles from Coimbra, to make an inventory of the church property to be confiscated by the state.

The inhabitants, advised of their approach, sounded the church bells and gathered to the number of more than 1200. The vanguard was formed entirely of women armed with pitchforks, knives and shotguns. The women numbered 300 and the military forces were unable to resist the onslaught and fled ignominiously. Strong reinforcements were dispatched to the scene and a fierce fight followed, the inhabitants being forced to give way. The officials burst the doors of the church, only to find the edifice empty. Paintings, statuary and tapestries had been removed and hidden.

The same thing happened in the churches of neighboring villages and the officials were forced to abandon the district.

MASONIC CEREMONY OVER CORNERSTONE

October 21 is the date selected for the laying of the cornerstone of the new library of Hawaii, now under construction at King, Likelike and Punchbowl streets. Chairman A. Lewis Jr. of the library committee is completing plans for a Masonic ceremony. It is proposed that Hawaiian Lodge No. 21 and the Knights Templar participate, and in addition there will be many public officials, including Governor Frazar. Contractor Young states that if he had all his building materials he could finish the building for in advance of the time limit set.

PORTUGUESE RECEIVE CHEERING WORD FROM HOMETOWN THAT ALL IS WELL

Washington, 8 October, 1911. Consul General of Portugal, Honolulu: Antevessario da Republica Portuguesa em todo o pais. Apenas em Vinhas no Distrito de Braganca alguns tumultos, mas o governo dispoe dos necessarios meios de represso. No resto do pais orden absoluto. ALTE.

A cablegram was received by Consul General Canavarro from the Portuguese legation at Washington yesterday afternoon announcing the celebration of the first anniversary of the founding of the Republic in Portugal, stating that in only one town was there any disturbance, and in this case it was quickly quelled.

In full the cable translated into English reads:

Washington, October 6, 1911. Consul General of Portugal, Honolulu:

The anniversary of the Republic was celebrated enthusiastically all over the country. Only in Vinhas, district of Braganca, were there any disturbances, but the government provided the necessary means of repressing them. Absolute order is in all other parts of the country. ALTE.

This news from the minister at Washington is cheering news to the Portuguese of Honolulu, showing that the Republic in their fatherland is on a stable basis, and that the great majority of the people of the country like the new form of government, this being shown by the fact that there was disturbance in but one town on the first anniversary of the founding of a liberal government.

According to the Portuguese here, there was fear that there might be serious disturbances on this first anniversary, but the manner in which everything passed off in all parts of the country shows much encouragement to natives of Portugal in other parts of the world.

Inasmuch as the embassy in Washington sent a cable to Consul General Canavarro here, it is presumed that all other foreign representatives of the country were informed in the same way, the fact that everything was peaceful being a matter of such note as to be worthy of communication to the consular and diplomatic service of Portugal in all countries.

SUBSTITUTE ELECTRIC POWER PLANT IS PLANNED TO AID CITY LIGHT SYSTEM

A substitute electric light station is planned by Superintendent of Public Works Campbell to act as an auxiliary plant to that maintained by the government in Nuuanu Valley. Superintendent Campbell's plan is to establish a power generating plant at the Alakea street pumping station, the equipment costing not more than $20,000 for a first-class plant.

When the reservoir supply in Nuuanu is low and the plant thereby becomes useless, the pumping station plant could be operated and the city would thereby be saved a large amount of money which now goes to the Hawaiian Electric Company for whatever power for lights it supplies during the year.

The matter will be brought before the next legislature, as an economical expenditure in which the government will be saved considerable outlay. The plant would pay for itself in a comparatively short time.

GENERAL MACOMB RIDES WITH BATTERY MEN FROM PALI TO SCHOFIELD BARRACKS

(From Saturday's Advertiser.)

In the saddle from the Pali to Fort Shafter and thence to Schofield Barracks, General Macomb, department commander, rode with the battalion of the First Field Artillery on Thursday and yesterday, completing the march at Leilehua at quarter to two in the afternoon. General Macomb felt at home accompanying field artillery, for it was in that branch of the service that he rose through the grades and finally became assigned to staff duty.

The entire battalion left Schofield Barracks, going Waiwae and then marching around the island. With four guns to a battery the battalion had twelve field pieces out, with field telegraph equipment. The march was made by easy stages, but was finished without mishap and was satisfactory not only to the colonel commanding, but to the department commander.

This is the first march attempted by so large a force and twelve guns in the column made a very warlike appearance along the road in windward Oahu. The ascent of the Pali was accomplished successfully.

At the Pali gap the column was met by General Macomb, who was accompanied by Captain Carter, chief of staff, and Lieutenant Andrews, aide. Port Shafter was reached on Thursday and the horses quartered there overnight. Yesterday morning the march was resumed. At Schofield Barracks General Macomb inspected the outfit, and returned to town on the afternoon train. The staff horses will be returned here today.

The field artillery has already distinguished itself by taking some of its guns over the Waianae gap, down the side of the mountain to the Waianae plains, thence along the beach and around through Ewa to Leilehua. This was a dangerous maneuver, but was accomplished safely.

SOUVENIR OF FIRST AERIAL POST ARRIVES

A postcard which had been in the mailbag carried by the first aerial postman of the world is in Honolulu, having been received by T. H. Davies & Co. in the Shinyo Maru mail from London, being sent by J. J. Colman, Limited, the fame of whose mustard circled the globe long before aeroplanes were thought of. The postcard carries a half penny "coronation" stamp, the first issue to bear King George's portrait, and an extra half-penny stamp of the King Edward issue, the two stamps being postmarked with the magic words: "First Aerial Post, United Kingdom." For a stamp collector the bits of paper have a great value, while as a souvenir of the installation of through-the-air mail delivery the whole card is naturally highly prized by those to whom it has been sent.

The face of the card, in addition to the address, carries a halfpenny reproduction of an aeroplane in flight, with these words below:

"For conveyance by aeroplane from London to Windsor. No responsibility in respect of loss, or delay, is undertaken by the Postmaster General."

On the reverse is this:

"September 9, 1911. 'The directors of J. J. Colman, Limited, present their compliments to you by the first Aerial Post, feeling assured that you will like to have a souvenir of the first effort ever made to inaugurate this new mode of transmitting His Majesty's mails.'"

MORE EYES ARE OPENED ON TOUR BELT ROAD IS UNDER TWO FIRES

Comments on the $16,000-a-Mile Absurdity When City's Condition is Shown.

Disappointed Bidder Talks About Carrying Matter to Supreme Court to Win.

THE CIVIC FEDS GET BUSY

Good Chance Now to Press for a New Deal on Common Sense Lines.

That several things will happen before work is commenced on the Hecla stretch of belt road, with the possibility of the contract being called off and a new deal made, seems evident from recent developments. In the first place steps are being taken by W. A. Kinney, attorney for John Wilson, who was the lowest bidder on the job, to fight any award except to Wilson, while the civic federation has called a meeting to discuss the general aspect of the matter and to consider what steps, if any, should be taken to prevent any contract on the present specifications.

Mr. Kinney has given out that he intends to contest the award of the contract to Lord-Young Company, and papers will be filed within the next few days to this effect, while the bidders to whom the contract is awarded have not filed their bond, and will not do so until the law matter is straightened out by the courts and other objections are disposed of.

To Supreme Court.

If the belt-road commission does not award the contract to Wilson, he is prepared to take the matter to the Supreme Court of the United States if he is beaten in the local courts, so he says, in which event there will be no belt road for years.

It is the opinion expressed around the city that the commission will be obliged to change its award and give the contract to Wilson, a preposterous supposition, or throw out all tenders for the work and call for new bids on revised specifications, which would be the proper thing to do. The commission might, if wholly without good judgment, call for new bids on the present specifications as one way out of trouble.

The Lord-Young Company takes the stand that there is no use in filing a bond and signing the contract as long as there is a possibility of a suit or a call for new bids.

The contract is now being prepared in the office of the attorney-general and will be ready for signature in a day or two, but, as stated before, Lord-Young Company will not sign until either the suit is brought by McCandless and Wilson or it is seen that no writ of certiorari is to be issued or the commissioners enjoined from letting a contract disapproved of by the community at large.

Contract Prepared.

Asked the status of the affair yesterday afternoon, Secretary Petrie of the board stated that he had not seen Mr. Adams since the day of the award and did not know anything about the matter.

Ten Days for Bond.

As to the time that the contract was to be signed, he said the contractors had ten days to do this and file their bond as required by law, but that the bond would not be filed, he thought, until the contract was presented and signed.

Chairman Adams of the loan fund commission has not been in town but once since the award of the bid, and so nothing is known as to how he stands in the fight promised or what he intends doing in regard to the questions which have been raised.

Civic Feds Busy.

Yesterday a meeting was held of the roads advisory committee of the civic federation and some strong was indulged in over the wholly unnecessary secrecy with which the belt road commission had proceeded in its work and in dumping what is considered "a job" upon an unsuspecting public. The committee resolved that the matter of deciding to spend eighty thousand dollars on any five miles of country road was something that needed impartial investigation, but thought that it should be taken up by the federation as a whole and not any subcommittee. Accordingly, a meeting of the federation is called, at which the road committee will express its views and ask for instructions.
